

Ruth Davis

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

After spending her career as a manager in the communications field, Ruth Davis created the MIT Recycling and Materials Management Office in 2014. As manager of the office, she is able to blend her writing and publishing experience with her passion for preserving the environment. Ruth grew up on the beaches in South Boston and now divides her time between Wollaston, Mass and Cape Elizabeth, Maine.